

SEVERAL WEEKS' DELAY IN U. S. REPLY, BERLIN ANNOUNCES OFFICIALLY

Rejoinder to Wilson Demands to Be Extensive, Covering Numerous Points—Long Period to Collect Data in Rebuttal.

BERLIN, June 14.—The German Foreign Office in an official statement published today in the Lokai Anzeiger announces that it will be weeks before the German Government can give its answer to the second American note relative to submarine warfare.

“The German reply will be so extensive, touching so many points involved in the negotiations, that it will be necessary to collect evidence from many different sources,” says the statement. “It will take considerable time to get together all the material necessary for the reply, and it will be weeks before Germany's answer can be given.”

“The question now is to find a modus vivendi satisfactory to both parties,” says the statement. “This much is certain: Without concessions by England no satisfactory solution can be expected. If the United States, in dealing with the question of how a modus vivendi can be found which gives justice to all, observes real neutrality, then it will not be difficult to attain a satisfactory result. Complete neutrality would, at the same time, best serve American interests. We are firm in the confidence that the relations between Germany and the United States will smooth the road to a complete understanding and so help righteousness and humanity to victory.”

The Lokai Anzeiger and the Berlin Tageblatt agree that the latest American note exhibits a sharpness of tone, but is friendly in spirit toward Germany and will afford an opportunity for further negotiations.

VIENNA PRESS SURPRISED AT FRIENDLY TONE OF U. S. NOTE

VIENNA, June 14.—Vienna newspapers all express surprise at the conciliatory tendency of the American note.

Almost without exception they comment on the fact that whereas English sources forecast an ultimatum, the second communication is, in fact, more friendly than the first.

POLICEMAN'S GUN ADDS NEW VICTIM TO LIST

Patrolman Shoots at Rat and Wounds Man in Neck—Many Have Met Similar Fate.

Reckless use of firearms added another victim to the list of “accidentally shot by policemen” today, when John Galup, 22 years old, of 230 Christian street, was struck in the neck by a bullet from the revolver of Policeman J. L. Piner, a Negro, of the 20th and Fitzwater streets station.

Piner, according to the police, was patrolling Christian street near 24th when a huge rat ran from a deserted building. Piner saw the rat and drew his revolver. The shot ricocheted from the store of the street and lodged in the neck of Galup, who was walking on the opposite side of the street. Piner called a patrol wagon and sent him to the Polyclinic Hospital. Galup's wound was not serious.

Piner has advanced no reason for his recklessness. At the station it was said that he had made no statement other than the simple recital of the facts. His superior officers state that he was not intoxicated when he made his report of the shooting.

JITNEY MUST PAY SAME FEES AS TAXI

Law Putting Two Carriers on Same Basis to Be Reported to Councils Thursday.

Taxicabs and jitneys will be subject to the same regulations as regards amounts of license fees and liability bonds, under the two ordinances to be reported to Councils' Law Committee by a subcommittee on Thursday.

The subcommittee, of which Common Councilman Charles F. Kelley, of the 17th Ward, is chairman, framed the two ordinances in executive session, and no disclosure of the amounts required for licenses and bonds has been made public.

The single bill reported to the Law Committee 10 days ago neglected taxicabs entirely and imposed on jitneys license fees of $50 and liability bond of $250 a car.

A storm of protest arose in the committee, where it was declared that the fee and bond were high enough to legislate the “jitney” out of existence. Caustic comment also was expressed over the failure of the subcommittee to take any action on the taxicab bill that had been before it for a year. The “jitney” bill was then sent back to the subcommittee for further consideration, and two identical “taxi” and “jitney” bills will be reported out on Thursday for action.

Ex-Senator Bailey filed a petition for a writ of review on the case of Maury I. Dugg. He also obtained time in which to file a motion for a rehearing of the Caminetti case.

Supreme Court adjourned at 3:30 p. m. today until June 21.

“HEART OF AMERICA WILL YET INTERPRET WORLD'S”—PRESIDENT

Nation's Head, in Flag Day Address at Capital, Declares Such Is the Great Mission of This Country.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—“The heart of America will yet interpret the heart of the world.”

That will be the mission of this nation, in the opinion of President Wilson, if the people of the country are true to its great traditions. He so told a crowd of nearly 5000 persons, assembled on the south front of the Treasury Building at noon today, in discussing Flag Day and the traditions for which the flag stands.

The setting for the address was inspiring. Stretching in front of him was the greenward of Potomac Park. In the distance the great bulk of the Washington monument stretched a dark shadow across the sky, from which a scorching summer sun threw everything into bold relief.

On the flag-bedecked speakers' stand sat the new President of the Administration, Acting Secretary Robert Lansing, and Secretary of the Navy Daniels, while the President was introduced by Secretary McAdoo.

For nearly a minute after President Wilson was introduced, the crowd applauded, and it was only after he had motioned for silence several times that he was able to make himself heard. He made no direct reference to the stirring days of the last week, although many interpreted the general tone when he appealed to every one to realize that the great mass of the people are not those who get their names in the newspapers, and in his statement that in the list of those who made the flag impossible there was not a single swashbuckler, as his explanation of why he has not made any public comment on the events that led to the first break in his Cabinet.

“I know of nothing more difficult than to render an adequate tribute to the emblem of our nation,” said the President in opening his address. “Those of us who have felt the heat of the pulse of the nation and who have known of its aspirations must realize the impossibility of truly expressing the great things that it represents. When we stop to analyze it we must realize what the flag represents is not mere body of vague sentiments or of rhetorical sentiments that are contained in declarations of independence and bills of rights.

“The thing that the flag stands for were created by the experiences of a great people. Everything that it stands for was written by their lives.

“The flag is the embodiment not of sentiment, but of history. It represents the experiences of men and women, the experiences of those who did and now live under that flag.

“You do not create national life by literary expositions, but by the daily endeavor of a great people, living up to their standard of honesty and just conduct.

“We are assembled here today to pay our tribute to the great men who have created the experiences that have made this nation what it is. These men are known to all the world. They included statesmen, soldiers, merchants, men of letters. They have shown us the way. They were not afraid to lead. They were not afraid to go ahead.

“There was not a single swashbuckler among them. They were all men of sober, quiet thought, whose actions were the more effective because there was no bluster in them.

“These men who made possible the celebration we are participating in today had no thought of self-aggrandizement, but only of their duty.

CHERRY HILLS PASSING ASSURED BY NEW ACT

Continued from Page One. We think 2000 acres is too much. We were not consulted here at all about the plan of merging the two penitentiaries. That's all I care to say about it.”

HANIFEN CONDEMNERS MERGER. John E. Hanifen, treasurer of the Board of Prison Inspectors, was not so reticent. He condemned the merger, on the ground that relatives of prisoners will not be able to afford the railroad fare to Bellefonte, and thus prisoners will not be visited as frequently. He says the members of the Board of Prison Inspectors are almost unanimously against the merger.

GOVERNOR DEFENDS ACT. The Governor contends that it will save the State each year more than three quarters of a million dollars, and that ideal living conditions may be provided for the convicts. The new prison will be known as the State Penitentiary of Pennsylvania. Governor Brumbaugh answers the argument that it will cost too much for relatives of prisoners to visit the prison by declaring that it is equally difficult now for relatives in the central counties to go to Philadelphia. He also points out that the sale of the sites will yield the State a sum in excess of that required to start the new prison.

GREATEST CAR STRIKE, WITH LEAST DISORDER, LAUNCHED IN CHICAGO

Million Struggle to Reach Work in Loop District. Elevated Lines Resume Running—Two Trains Bombaraded.

CHICAGO, May 14.—Two detectives escorting trains on the South Side Elevated were injured late today when two trains were bombaraded with bricks and chunks of lead pipes. The attack took place just as the trains were passing the 12th street station, the second stop outside of the loop. Several windows in the cars were broken, one by a nail-studded piece of planking.

The finance committee of Council late today refused Healey's request for 1,000 policemen pending developments in the strike.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The first day of America's biggest city transit strike passed quietly and with no serious disorder. The city was never so inconvenienced in its history. The first slight trouble occurred at the limits barn of the surface lines, where more than 200 strikers were dispersed when residents of the neighborhood complained that they were making too much noise. Officials of the surface lines issued a statement at noon in which they said strike-breakers would be put to work and cars would be operated as quickly as arrangements could be perfected.

A dispatch from South Bend, Ind., stated that the Chicago transportation lines were advertising there for men to run cars.

Carrying armed guards, elevated trains, shortly before noon today, were sent away on their runs on 10-minute schedules in an effort to crush the strike. There were no passengers on the first several trains, and few were courageous enough, even later, to make the trip.

P. R. R. DEFENDANT ON REBATING CHARGE

Two Indictments Against Company Being Prosecuted Here by U. S. Government.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is defendant on two indictments for alleged rebating on bituminous coal shipments in favor of the Glen White Coal and Lumber Company. In proceedings begun this afternoon in the United States District Court before Judge Dickinson.

The indictments were found by a Federal grand jury March 10, and since that time Attorneys Francis I. Gowen, John Hampton Barnes and James Large have been preparing the railroad's defense. United States District Attorney Kane and Alexander H. Elder, special assistant to the Attorney General, are in charge of the case for the Government. The proceedings are expected to last several days.

Mr. Kane, in outlining the government's case to the jury, explained that the Pennsylvania Railroad has tracks running from Kittanning Point to another of its lines at Trenton, N. J., and also makes connections in Jersey City with the West Shore Railroad and the Long Island Railroad Company. The three companies maintain a joint through railway line for the shipment of cargoes of coal from the Glen White Company's mine at Kittanning Point to Hoboken by way of the West Shore and to Wood Haven Junction, N. Y., by the Long Island road.

In the indictments five specific shipments of coal are cited upon which rebates of 10 cents a ton are alleged to have been granted.

U. S. ASKS BALDWIN'S TO INCREASE GUARDS LEST GERMANS PRY

Locomotive Plant Hires Extra Watchmen When $6,000,000 Contract With Russia for 250 Engines Is Obtained.

Steps have been taken to protect the Baldwin Locomotive Works from the intrusions and possible attacks of German agents in the event of a change in the peaceful nature of the negotiations between Washington and Berlin. This is the result of a determination on the part of the Administration at Washington to safeguard every munition-making plant in the country.

The obtaining of a $6,000,000 contract for 250 locomotives from the Russian Government by the Baldwin concern Saturday, and the fact that war munitions probably will be turned out by the plant next year, the management being now in negotiations for a contract for $20,000,000 worth of shrapnel, has made the need for the safeguarding of the plant imperative.

The War Department has made extensive investigations of the nation's capacity for turning out munitions of all kinds. While it had no legal authority for compelling the various concerns to employ extra guards, it offered the suggestion unofficially and the managers accepted it without delay. The Baldwin plant is therefore more inaccessible than ever to outsiders.

The United States Secret Service agents are known to have made reports of activities of the small army of German propagandists and agents in this country. They have found that German agents have taken the usual precautions for their government in familiarizing themselves with locations of principal plants used or capable of being used as munition factories, so that in case of war Germany may have the best possible knowledge of her new enemy's situation. This, plus the fact that every nation in peace and war is constantly on the alert to learn as much as it can about the activities of possible future enemies, has led the War Department to adopt a policy of increased vigilance.

The United States Government has learned, and the foreign agents, too, have learned, that this country is today turning out at least 500 per cent. more guns and cartridges than were being made in this country before the war began last August.

If the Baldwin plant should start to turn out the $20,000,000 shrapnel order in addition to its other work of supplying the Allies with equipment, it would become one of the most important factors in the war, and a natural objective, if this country should become involved in war, of attacks by enemies both in and out of the country.
